THREE SLAYERS OF JOLIET DEPUTY HANGED EARLY TODAY

LAST CHAPTER IN LIVES OF VICIOUS MEN

400 Witness One of Final Hangings in Illinois

Joliet, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—Outdoors in a heavy fog while 400 men who only a moment before had been laughing and shouting to each other looked on, the three convicts left of seven who slew Peter Klein, deputy warden at the state penitentiary near here May 5, 1926, were hanged at 6:13 o'clock this morning.

Those who witnessed the hanging, one of the last in Illinois, fought and struggled for an hour to get into the jail yard.

Preceded by four priests, Roberto Torrez, Mexican, Walter Stalesky, Pole, and Charles Duschowski, Lithuanian, left the jail at 6:10 o'clock.

ONE GRINNED AT ROPE Duschowski was grinning and continued to smile till the white cap was placed over his head. The three walked with firm step.

Torrez took his stand and looked up at the noose. Stalesky paled and staggered, but regained his composure. While Duschowski continued to grin, Torrez summoned a smile to his face and shouted:

"Goodbye everybody."

DROPPED TOGETHER That was the only audible remark made by any of the three. Torrez and Stalesky continued to make responses to the priest until the white caps cut off their voices. The three shot through the trap door together.

The three mounted the scaffold with long, flowing hair, mustaches and beards. Since they attempted to escape for the third time six weeks ago, they were denied razors.

Crowd Around Jail All night guards milled about the jail. Some 25 guards permitted no one to stop. As dawn broke, those who held tickets began to crowd about the jail yard entrance. Police were helpless to stop the rush as the gate was opened.

Were Awake All Night The men remained awake nearly all night. At 2 a. m. they were chained upright to their cells where they remained until 4 a. m., when they were given white shirts, blue trousers and slippers.

They refused food.

"Hard Boiled" to End Stalesky and Torrez spent their last hours in prayer. Duschowski remained "hard boiled" nearly until the last. It was after midnight before he said he "guessed" he would see a priest.

Mary Belle Spencer, Chicago lawyer who sought to save Torrez by a last minute plea for a sanity hearing, tried, also unavailingly, to save him by an appeal to Sheriff Mark Graff. She spent the night in trying to reach judges who would halt the execution.

At 2 a. m. she appealed by telephone to Governor Len Small, but he refused to interfere.

Klein's Kin Witnesses Val Klein, brother of the murdered deputy warden, and Joseph F. Moore, brother of Mrs. Klein, both of Chicago, witnessed the hanging.

Mrs. Klein, the widow, was at the jail early renewing her request that she be permitted to spring the trap. The request again was refused and she remained quietly in the jail office while the execution took place.

MADE THREE BREAKS Torrez, Stalesky and Duschowski, three of Illinois' most desperate criminals, were left of seven who slew Peter Klein, deputy warden, and escaped from the new "break-proof" state penitentiary at Jolietville, near here, on May 5, 1926.

They were recaptured only to participate in two more daring attempts to escape. Torrez was a Mexican, Stalesky and Duschowski, Americans.

In the first break, James Price made good his bid for freedom and is still at large. With the three finally doomed to hang, three others—Ber-

Jones Breaks Record To Retain Title

First Woman of British Commons Died Early Today

ASSOCIATED PRESS (ONES WIDE WORLD) COUNTESS-MARKIEVICZ

Dublin, Ireland, July 15.—(AP)—Countess Markievicz, for many years one of the most remarkable personalities in Irish life, died early today. Her husband and stepson, as well as Eamon De Valera, republican leader, were at her bedside.

The countess, whose activities extended throughout the troubled years when the Irish people were fighting for independence, underwent two operations for appendicitis and a week ago suffered a relapse.

For the part she played in the Easter week rebellion of 1916, she was sentenced to death, but the sentence was commuted to penal servitude and she was released in 1917 to continue less rebellious, but equally strenuous activities in the political arena.

Before her marriage to a Polish count in 1900, she was Constance Georgine Gorbath and was the first woman elected to the British parliament.

CUT ON HANDS OF MURDERED GALESBURG BANK EMPLOYEE MAY BE AN IMPORTANT LEAD

Girl With Victim of Attack Unable to Give Any Clue

Galesburg, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—An unexplained cut on the hands of Dale Munson, 22-year-old bank bookkeeper, shot to death, was regarded by authorities as a possible clue to a solution of the mystery of his death.

Mary Marks, who was with Munson in his parked car five miles west of Galesburg, was unable to account for the injury. Investigators were unable to find any tracks in the muddy road. She was hazy as to the details of the tragedy.

She said Munson had just entered the car after fixing the engine when a negro approached and demanded that he get out. When Munson started to do so, she said, the negro fired and fled. She then drove to a nearby house for aid.

Hold Second Car Police found that a car containing two men and two girls, which drove up a few moments after the shooting, bore the license numbers of Gilbert Forest, of Wheatland, and was believed to have been stolen. The men fled and the two girls were taken into custody although they were not believed to have any connection with the case.

A theory of mistaken identity has been advanced. Although Tim Alexander, 50, Burlington, Iowa, negro is under arrest as a suspect, police today said his story checked up in many respects. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by an unknown assailant.

UNDER PAR ON THREE ROUNDS; EVEN ON OTHER

Made Record Score of 285 for 72 Holes in Tournament

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 15.—(AP)—Bobby Jones won the British open golf championship for the second time in a row when he played his fourth round in 72 and made a record breaking score of 285.

Although Jones was the 18th of the 54 players to finish, he was conceded the championship, golfers and spectators alike, declaring "no further count demanded."

Bobby, in his four rounds of 68-72-73-72 was under par on three of them and equaled par on the other. His victory two years running ties a record made in 1904-05 by James Braid.

Makes New Record. The 285 was six strokes under the record for the 72-hole play started in 1892. Jones, in winning last year with 291, tied James Braid's mark made in 1908. Aubrey Boomer, runner-up to Jones at the moment, scored 291.

Bobby also bettered the American record. The best in American open competition was 286 by "Chick" Evans in 1916.

Jones' card: 1st round: out—444 544 555—35 in—335 544 354—35—70 2nd round: out—455 454 343—37 in—333 444 554—35 72

With all cards in, Jones led Aubrey Boomer and Fred Robson, tied for second at 291 by six strokes. Ernest Whitcombe and Joe Kirkwood were tied for fourth at 293. The next highest amateur to Bobby was W. B. Terrance, who scored 300.

Frank Miller of Franklin Grove was in Dixon on business this morning.

ASK DEATH FOR BIRGERITES

GOVERNOR AND EX-GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS FIGURE "BIG" IN STATE NEWS OF THE DAY

Benton, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—Nearly one hundred witnesses were in the courtroom today when the state began to present its testimony in an effort to send Charles Birger, Art Newman and Ray Hyland, southern Illinois gangsters, to death for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City.

State's Attorney Roy C. Martin, in his opening statement to the jury late yesterday, declared the state's witnesses would "track Birger and his men through every move they made in the murder plot."

It was expected several days would be required to complete the structure of evidence by which Martin intends to show Birger as the arch plotter in the crime.

What State Alleges The story, as briefly summarized in the opening statement, is that Birger is alleged to have sent two youths, Harry Thomasson, 19, and his brother, Elmo, 17, to kill Adams, whom he accused of sheltering the rival Shelton gangsters. Hyland is alleged to have driven the slayers' automobile.

Newman, according to the state's attorney, knew of the plot, escorted the murderers part way to the scene, joined them after the shooting and was present when Birger paid them $150 for the work.

Killer Has Confessed The state's main reliance will be upon Harry Thomasson, who confessed his part in the killing and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Newman, although a defendant, is expected to be a strong witness for the state, by carrying out his expressed determination to lay full blame upon Birger, with whom he is at odds. He is to give direct testimony. Two other Birger gangsters, Clarence Rhone and Dan Brown are to be important state witnesses.

The prosecution also depends on two youths, whose names are withheld, to testify that Birger tried to hire them to kill Adams several weeks before he is alleged to have commissioned the Thomasson boys.

Sheriff First Witness James Pritchard, sheriff of this (Franklin) county, was first called to the stand. A badiff arose and announced that any disturbance in the courtroom would result in the election of the disturbers.

Questioning of the sheriff brought a statement from defense lawyers that Birger is 44 years old and Newman, 28.

Pritchard was questioned on the geography of Williamson, Franklin and Saline counties, particularly as to the highway distances between cities named in the state's story of the shooting.

Found Four Corpses. Sheriff Oren Coleman, of Williamson county, the second witness, was asked to describe "Shady Rest," a roadhouse operated by Birger. Coleman complied and said there was also a sheet iron barn which was used for cock fighting and dog fighting.

Asked what he found in the roadhouse ruins after it was bombed and burned last January eighth, nearly a month after the Adams killing, Coleman said:

"There were four corpses."

Heavy Downpour of Rain South of Dixon A heavy downpour of rain just before noon today flooded roads south of Dixon. At Peelding's corners on the Peoria road where the route 89 paving is now being poured, all work was halted on account of the down pour.

Woman is Paroled on Booze Charge by Judge Mrs. Mary Jensen of Nelson pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing and transporting intoxicating liquor in the county court yesterday afternoon and was placed on parole for a period of six months. The woman was arrested with her husband, William Jensen and Orville Rogers Wednesday night when a delivery of several quarts of moonshine liquor was being made at Franklin Grove.

John Gentry of Amboy was a Dixon business caller this morning.

Trains Delayed Today by Big DeKalb Fire Freight and passenger traffic on the main line of the Chicago & North Western was several hours late today, trains running west six hours behind schedule. The delay was due to the complete blocking of all tracks at all tracks at DeKalb, where fire early this morning destroyed the coal chutes. The large chutes collapsed during the fire, blocking the tracks and all traffic was held up or detoured by way of Sycamore and Belvidere.

Westbound trains were sent back from the scene of the fire to West Chicago and then routed through Belvidere and Sycamore. East bound trains were delayed and sent over a similar routing. The damage by the burning of the chutes this morning was estimated at $50,000.

HENRY WHITE

Pittsfield, Mass., July 15.—(AP)—Henry White, former ambassador to France and Italy and American delegate to the Paris peace conference, died in Lenox early today. He underwent an operation three years ago and had been in ill health much since.

Mr. White was born in Baltimore, Md., on March 29, 1850, and was educated in the United States and in France. He came from an old and distinguished Maryland family. In 1879 he married Miss Margaret Stuyvesant Rutherford of New York, a sister-in-law of William K. Vanderbilt. Mrs. White died in Lenox, Mass., in 1916. Their daughter, Margaret, is the Countess Scheer-Thoss, wife of an officer of the Royal Prussian Cuirassiers whose father was formerly associated with the former Emperor of Germany. Mr. White in November, 1920, married Mrs. Emily Vanderbilt Sloane of New York.

Whether the flyers were afloat, still in the air, or struggling in the sea, was left undetermined when radio stations were silenced that the frantic S. O. S. calls from the plane might be heard.

A radio message direct from the monoplane saying it was landing in the water and to rush help was intercepted by the Navy at San Francisco at 7:00 a. m., Pacific standard time.

The last known position of the plane was about 620 miles east and north of Paia, Island of Maui. That was at 7:50 a. m., when the liner Wilhelmina, about 200 miles away, steaming to the rescue, intercepted a message saying the plane was still begging for help.

Equipped with ten days' provisions, a pneumatic life raft and facilities for distilling water, the flyers could remain adrift if they made a safe landing. They knew nothing of the help rushing toward them because their receiving set broke down shortly after leaving San Francisco yesterday.

LETTING OFF OF STEAM AT PEACE PARLEY HELPFUL

Atmosphere Improved as Result Plenary Talk on Thursday

London, July 15.—(AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Geneva says that after yesterday's general blowing off of steam, the atmosphere of the naval conference is generally considered to have improved greatly in spite of pessimists who predict a failure.

FRANK U. S. STATEMENT Washington, July 15.—(AP)—The address of Ambassador Gibson at the Geneva naval conference should dispel the impression that the United States created the 10,000-ton type cruiser for its own purposes, in the opinion of Washington officials.

Representing the implication that this type was evolved at the insistence of the United States, Washington feels Mr. Gibson has clarified this viewpoint by his statement showing the Washington conference had adopted this tonnage for maximum size in this class without controversy.

DELEGATES ARE TIRED Geneva, Switzerland, July 15.—(AP)—Admiral Viscount Salto, of the Japanese delegation, called on Hugh Gibson, chief of the American delegation, for a general review of the situation existing in the naval conference, which continues stationary.

Excitement of the past few days seems to have wearied all the plenipotentiaries. They appear to ask nothing better than an opportunity for rest and for reflection on the means of saving the situation.

U. S. Conciliatory The American spokesman said that the delegation was willing in principle to discuss any conceivable details of the projected treaty. He made

If Plane Landed Safely Two Airmen May be Found Afloat

(By The Associated Press)

Short of fuel and more than 600 miles from land, Ernest L. Smith, civilian aviator, and Emory Bronte, navigator, faced an undetermined fate today as a radio report was received that their monoplane City of Oakland flying to Honolulu had made a landing on the Pacific.

New York, July 15—(AP)—The Holland-American line today announced receipt of a wireless from the captain of the company's liner Veendam stating the Veendam collided with and sank the Norwegian steamer Sagaland four miles east of Nantucket at 4:40 a. m. today. All aboard the Sagaland were saved except one, the message said. The Veendam was undamaged and is bound for New York.

The Veendam, out of Rotterdam July 5, is due at New York tonight. On board are the Sagaland's survivors.

The Sagaland left Manzanillo, Cuba, July 7 for Boston. The ship was 2,677 tons gross register.

distressed plane at 11:15 a. m., Honolulu time (1:45 p. m. Pacific coast time). The sea was calm.

NO PLANES AVAILABLE.

Officials at Pearl Harbor announced the Navy was standing by but that its hands were tied because no seaplanes were available that could make such a trip and return.

Besides the rubber life raft, Smith had a pair of collapsible oars, a tire pump, rubber patches, two dozen flares and a signal pistol. Two small stills for drinking water were provided.

A message from the Wilhelmina, reporting the landing was received by naval radio and other wireless stations here. It confirmed previous reports as to the time the plane hit the water.

The Wilhelmina said the plane landed at sea at 5:15 a. m. Honolulu time.

San Francisco, July 15—(AP)—The trans-Pacific monoplane, City of Oakland, flying to Honolulu, struck the water some 500 miles from land at 7:45 a. m. Pacific coast time today after running out of gasoline and summoning four steamships to her aid by radio. The liner Wilhelmina, 75 miles from the spot where the monoplane's last S. O. S. was heard, was speeding to the rescue.

The other ships, the liner President Pierce and the Army transport, Kenosha, continued toward the plane's last known position.

According to computations here, the plane had been in the air 21 hours and five minutes and covered about 1,800 miles. She was presumably 500 miles from Paia, Maui. She probably fell short of Honolulu by 700 miles.

as a provision for such discussion that the British begin by fixing a total tonnage for cruisers which would be considerably lower than those they have advanced. His statement was in answer to the speech yesterday by W. J. Bridgeman, Britain's chief delegate.

Mr. Bridgeman alluded to the American objection to a fixation of the size of cruisers and their armaments.

The Americans continue to express the belief that the British must reduce the total tonnage if it is hoped to sign a treaty.

Denies Accusation.

In connection with Mr. Bridgeman's address, it is denied here that he accused Mr. Gibson of changing front, as was alleged in a report reaching the United States.

The Japanese are trying to exert a conciliatory influence. The atmosphere might be described as slightly less tense but with a solution of the cruiser difficulty not in sight.

The allegation cable to the United States that Mr. Bridgeman yesterday accused Mr. Gibson of changing front was not carried by The Associated Press.

Hardening President

Rapid City, S. D., July 15—(AP)—Fishing and horse back riding are making President Coolidge as "hard as nails". That's the word of his physician, Major J. F. Coupal.

"You will be as hard as nails if you keep this program up all summer," Dr. Coupal replied.

While the President goes every day to the executive office, the afternoons are being divided between fishing and horseback riding.

BLUE-BLOODS OF BOSTON.

Fred Thompson, the Boston lawyer of professional prominence and aristocratic lineage who took up the case of Sacco and Vanzetti at a time when it sorely needed strong legal guidance, has admitted that his step has cost him both business and friends.

However one may feel about the merits of the Sacco-Vanzetti case, there probably are many who will welcome Thompson's demonstration that the spirit of some of the old Boston blue-bloods who risked life, property and social prestige 150 years ago still lives.

There is a striking parallel between the experiences of Thompson and of James Otis, the revolutionary patriot, born in Boston more than 200 years ago. Otis was an aristocrat, a gentleman of birth, breeding and culture. But at a time when most of his kind were remaining loyal to King George III and classing themselves as loyalists or Tories, Otis joined and helped lead the cause of the more lowly colonists.

The similarity of the feelings that must have been shared by both Otis and Thompson may be gathered by a paragraph from the famous speech of Otis against the Writs of Assistance before the Massachusetts superior court in February, 1761. He said:

"I have taken more plains in this case than I ever will take again, although my engaging in this and another popular cause has raised much resentment. But I think I may sincerely declare, that I cheerfully submit myself to every odious name for conscience's sake; and from my soul I despise all those whose guilt, malice or folly has made them my foes. Let the consequences be what they will, I am determined to proceed. The only principles of public conduct, that are worthy of a gentleman or a man, are to sacrifice estate, ease, health and applause, and even life, to the sacred calls of his country."

HENRY D. DEMENT.

A valiant soldier, an able statesman and a leader of men describe some of the qualities of character of Col. Henry Dodge Dement, distinguished Dixonite, who died last Wednesday, but even those splendid qualities which were so well demonstrated in his public life are overshadowed by the lovable characteristics of the personal, private life of this man as a friend, a husband and father. His great kindness and charity, his delightful wit, his geniality of nature, his devotion to his own people and to his friends, his personal honor and integrity, all blended together in a being so remarkable that his memory will be cherished as long as any of us who knew him are alive.

REMEMBERS EARLY DAYS.

J. R. Ruel, of Mendota, Deputy State Fire Marshall, who has been in Dixon for several days inspecting industrial plants and downtown property, can hark back to the "Days of Real Sport" in Dixon. He remembers when the Evening Telegraph office was down on River street, and has not forgotten the day when, a green old country-lad, unable to talk a word of English, he applied at the Telegraph office for a job and earned the first fifty cent piece he made in this country by turning the handle on the old Washington hand press.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

When all the crisp was packed and tied, wee Copy jumped up high and cried, "Oh, look! What's happened to the falls? It's disappeared from sight." And, sure enough, the falls had stopped and no more wondrous syrup dropped. 'Twas natural that he wondered now if things were all right.

"Don't worry," said the popcorn man. "I've used today, all that I can. That's why I stopped the syrup flow. It's much too nice to waste. If you'll come back some day again, I'll welcome all of you, and then I'll start the pretty syrup falls, so you can have a taste."

And then he sharply swung about, and said, "Well, I'm all tired out. I've got to go and get my rest, and close my weary eyes. I'm glad that I have met you all. I hope some day again you'll call." And then the Tinymites and the man all shouted loud good-byes.

He shortly disappeared from sight and Copy said, "Say, he's all right."

CIVIC ACHIEVEMENTS

BY DON E. MOWRY

Secretary, American Community Advertising Association

The usual procedure in American cities is to let municipal improvements follow industrial growth. In many instances, industrial and business expansion would come more rapidly if the order were reversed.

Tampa, Fla., is a city which illustrates this admirably.

Municipal improvements completed or under construction during 1926 in Tampa entailed an expenditure of $3,185,000, and plans have already been made by the city engineering department for a $2,000,000 paving program.

Six new bridges now span the Hillsborough river within the city limits. Two of these bridges are already open for use. The others are nearing completion.

Ten miles of sewers have been laid and sixty miles of streets paved.

A municipal auditorium has been completed at a cost of $300,000 and the municipal hospital on Davis Is. land, costing $1,250,000, was completed in April.

Hillsborough county has expended nearly $8,000,000 during the past year on bridge and highway construction, most of which is closely adjacent to Tampa but outside the city limits, which embrace 25 square miles. Tampa is growing and must keep ahead of her growth.

SAINT and SINNER

"On what grounds will he sue for divorce?" Faith demanded indignantly, while her arms instinctively strained Cherry's baby to her breast. "Oh, he wouldn't dare to try to take the baby away from us—you!" she added, with a moan.

"Churchill says he's going to sue on the grounds of desertion and claim custody of the baby on the plea that I am—unfit," Cherry told her dearly. "He plans to use the evidence that Banning brought out against me during the trial. Oh, Faith, can he?"

"Of course he can't!" Faith reassured her vehemently. "He would have to prove that your conduct since your marriage has been such as to make you unfit to rear the baby, and you know he can't do that. Don't cry so, darling. Bob will know what to do."

"I'm going to see Churchill!" Cherry announced, raising her flushed, tear-wet face to stare at Faith with wild, defiant eyes. "He's got to fight—fight!"

The thought flashed across Faith's mind that fighting in the courts was terribly expensive, and that Cherry had no money—Poor Bob! What had she let him in for?

Cherry whirled through her dressing, stopping twice to press a quick, passionate kiss upon the tiny, contented face of her baby as it nestled in Faith's arms.

"You don't mind looking after Midget for me, do you, darling?" she asked coaxingly.

"Of course not!" Faith reproached her. "But you'll try to be back before dinner, won't you? You know this is Thursday and Mrs. Lundy won't be back, so I'll have to be cook tonight."

"I'll hurry back and cook the dinner myself," Cherry promised her impulsively. "But I've just got to talk to Churchill and see what can be done. Custody of my baby! Oh, the precious!"

"You do love the midget, don't you, Cherry?" Faith asked, a lump in her throat making words difficult. "You didn't want her—"

"I'm mad about her! And she's so good! And so utterly beautiful!" Cherry laughed huskily. "Look, Faith, she knows her little mother!"

"You certainly look like a mother!" Faith scoffed fondly, as Cherry's tiny, fairy-like body whirled lightly toward the door.

"That's all right!" Cherry retorted, laughing but well-pleased. "I have a plan that may prove I'm very much grown up. Just wait till I get back!"

When Cherry was gone Faith sat for a while with the baby held close to her troubled heart, held so close indeed that the infant whimpered faintly. How, vile a man could be, she thought, sick with apprehension, Chris Wiley! For many long months his name had signified all things menacing and evil and now it had a new and more terrible sound than ever. But of course he couldn't take the baby—

When the child whimpered again in protest of her passionate embrace,

Faith smiled at it through her tears, then hushed it to sleep, laying it in the gorgeous perambulator which Bob had bought. Then she rolled the stately carriage into the dining room where she could keep an eye on it while she went about her preparations for dinner. For of course Cherry would not return in time—

TOMORROW: Bob strikes terror in Faith's heart.

Dempsey to Try Out

"Receptive" Powers

Saratoga Lake, N. Y., July 15—(AP)—Jack Dempsey is undergoing the final test of his ability—whether he can take a husky punch on the chin and still be in fighting with senses undimmed. He is certain that his physical condition is sound, that his punching power is as great as ever and his foot work fast enough to carry the high-powered artillery into close range for heavy work on Jack Sharkey's body. But he realizes that on the way in he will be hit hard and often and he is anxious to discover his reaction when fists are drumming on his own chin.

Hot Weather Stopped

Sharkey's Training

New York, July 15—(AP)—The weather has called a halt in Jack Sharkey's training program for the fight with Jack Dempsey here Thursday night. Sharkey, after a rather spotty showing yesterday, decided that humidity was harder to cope with than his sparring partners, and he announced he would do no boxing today.

The Boston heavyweight weighed close to 200 lbs when he began his training, but the last two sweltering days brought him down fast.

McGRAW PROBABLY FIT TO BE TIED; GIANTS DROP TWO

Reds Hand Giants Hard Blow: Cubs Main- tained Lead

BY THE AP

Two crushing defeats by a tail-end club found the Giants today in anything but a happy mood.

Cincinnati punctured Giant aspirations yesterday. The Reds won the first game in a five-run finish that brought an 8 to 6 victory, and then spilled Virgil Barnes, New York hurling ace, for an 8.3 win.

Pittsburgh took the third game of the series from Brooklyn, 6-5, and kept pace with the Cubs.

Cubs Maintain Lead

Osborn's pitching gave Chicago a 6 to 1 win over Boston. The Cubs thus held on to their game and a half lead for first place.

St. Louis, after three straight victories over Philadelphia, bowed before Mitchell's southpaw spit ball shoots, 7 to 3.

Cleveland stopped an eight-game losing streak and the Yankees, the American league leaders, were set down, 4 to 1.

Although held to five hits, the St. Louis Browns beat Boston, 4 to 2. Detroit was leading Washington, 2 to 0, when rain halted the game in the third inning. The Athletics and White Sox were rained out.

Dixon Greys to Play Ohio Legion Sunday

The Dixon Greys baseball team with a record of five straight wins without a defeat, will meet the Ohio Legion team at Browns Field Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The Greys have been strengthened with two additional players and a good game is assured. Prestegard and Skelton will form the battery for the Greys Sunday with Fox, a southpaw and Foley performing for Ohio.

MANDELL WILL RISK TITLE IN DETROIT RING

Rockford Sheik Favor- ite Over McGraw: Fight Tonight

BULLETIN

Detroit, July 15—(AP)—The Sammy Mandell-McGraw lightweight championship bout scheduled for tonight was postponed until tomorrow night because of rain.

Detroit, July 14—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, the sheik of Rockford, will risk his world's lightweight championship against Earl McGraw, of Detroit, in a ten round contest to a referee's decision tonight.

It will be the first time Mandell has tossed his title into the ring against a dangerous opposition since he won the crown from Rocky Kansas in Chicago a year ago. Mandell has boxed several times since, but always against minor opponents. The bout will be held in the Detroit University stadium.

Bob Fitzsimmons, the promoter, said the advance sale of tickets amounted around $50,000.

Mandell, according to Fitzsimmons,

Edgewood Club of Polo at the close of the Lincoln Highway golf tournament played Wednesday and Thursday at Polo; walked off the course winner of the tournament, Dixon's team, which led at the close of the first day's contest, stands third. The Dixon players received the congratulations of everybody Wednesday evening over the victory, but their enthusiasm was somewhat dampened Thursday morning when it was learned that a telegram had been sent to the President of the Association protesting against the playing of one of the Dixon players. Some one circulated the story that Dixon had "Bobby" Jones in their team, but the President knew this could not be and was not true, so he ordered the team to enter the contest again on Thursday.

Made Course Record
Garner of Kishwaukee made a course record medal score of 35 down and Bracken runner up, score 36. These scores were made in nine holes. The prizes were very beautiful and useful. The Edgewood Club received a great many well deserved credits for the successful way in which they entertained the visitors and the good condition of the course. Much credit is due the ladies of the Polo Club for the splendid way in which they handled their part of the tournament—dinners, luncheons, etc. All together the social end of the tournament was one of the big features of the event.

NEED FARMERS
Peking-China needs farmers. Hundreds of thousands of acres which ordinarily produce rice and millet are not even being plowed this year. With more than 2,000,000 men in the armies, and many others turned brigades because of the annual seizure of their crops, the prospect is serious.

FEARED RUPTURE IN NAVY CONFAB FAILED TO SHOW

Plenary Session Quiet
Today in Spirit of Friendliness

BULLETIN
London, Eng., July 14—(AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Geneva says that the general impression there tonight after today's session was that it virtually marks the end of the conference at least as a means of securing a limitation of armaments.

Geneva, Switzerland, July 14—(AP)—The plenary session of the tripartite naval conference today, which had been looked forward to with much speculation by observers, ended tonight with no rupture of negotiations.

On the contrary, all the speeches made by the representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, although they unequivocally explained the various positions on the cruiser problem, were temperate and breathed a note of hope that the conference eventually would succeed.

The session adjourned late this afternoon with the understanding that there would be another session, the time to be fixed by the secretary.

Ratifications Not in Peril.
W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the British admiralty, and head of the British delegation, speaking at today's session, declared that nothing had occurred at the conference which imperils the good relations between the nations represented.

Mr. Bridgeman said that the British delegation had asked for a plenary session because it believed that the atmosphere was being vitiated by gross misrepresentations of the British case in certain quarters.

See Some Agreement.
Even if no agreement were possible on cruisers, he declared, it would be worth while to reach an agreement on destroyers and submarines. Acceptance of the British proposals, he continued, would mean definite reduction in the offensive power of every type of warship because it reduced their size.

Previous to Mr. Bridgeman, Admiral Jellicoe of Great Britain presented a justification of the British cruiser needs saying that it was difficult to reduce them in view of the responsibility of the navy to the mother country and the dominions and the land communications which must be protected.

Coolidge's Pastor's Damage Suit Settled

Washington, July 14—(AP)—The controversy between Rev. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church, which is attended by President Coolidge, and Howard T. Cole, a shipping board engineer, has been settled out of court. Cole sued the pastor for $50,000 recently on the grounds that letters written by Dr. Pierce to shipping board officials had reflected on his character.

Today Cole's attorneys said Dr. Pierce had sent another letter to the board withdrawing the charges and that so far as Cole was concerned the suit could be ended.

Reed Would Impound All Penna. Ballots

Washington, July 14—(AP)—Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, who led the successful senate filibuster against continuing the life of the campaign funds committee, announced today that he would ask the privileges and elections committee to impound all of the ballots cast in the Vane-Wilson senatorial election in Pennsylvania last November.

The Biggest Leased Wire System in the World

What The Associated Press Is

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS is an association of persons representing more than 1200 morning, evening and Sunday newspapers scattered throughout the United States, Alaska, Cuba, Costa Rica, Mexico, Hawaii, Philippines, Porto Rico, and Central and South America.

Its sole object is the collection and distribution of the important news of the world for publication in its member papers.

Each member contributes exclusively to the organization the news of his vicinage.

News of all other countries in the world is gathered by staff men in centralized bureaus and in the field. In addition, there is available, through exclusive news-exchange contracts with the important foreign news agencies, all of the news that they gather.

80,000 individuals report news to THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

This news is distributed by leased wires. There are over 131,000 miles of leased wires in this great system.

It is the greatest clearing house for news in the world. The number of words daily received and transmitted at each of the more important offices is over 75,000—the equivalent of 60 columns of the average newspaper.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS has no capital stock; it makes no profits and declares no dividends. The revenues reach an annual aggregate of $7,000,000 derived wholly from weekly assessments levied pro rata upon the members.

The members of THE ASSOCIATED PRESS are persons of every conceivable political, economic and religious advocacy. They demand accurate news; notwithstanding their varying opinions, they are united in one thing—that THE ASSOCIATED PRESS news service shall be wholly free from partisan activity; the news must be important, clean, and free from any tinge of propaganda. To this end the news is intentionally and necessarily subjected to the criticism of fifteen directors, twelve hundred members and, most important, the reading public.

It is the theory of THE ASSOCIATED PRESS that, in a self-governing country like ours, the citizens, if given the facts, must be able to form their own opinion and judgments respecting them.

These Telegraph Wires Keep the Readers of This Paper in Touch With the News of the World

Good Thoughts for Good People

We should cultivate the thought of God as unchanging Principle, "the same yesterday, and today, and forever," if we would gain the victory over matter, or material sense, if we would enter into the peace and joy and harmony and health which are man's birthright. Principle is unchanging, and just as we realize this truth are able to utilize it in the solution of the problem of human existence."

Christian Science Journal.

Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism who should labor to subvert those pillars of human happiness, those fortress props of the duties of men and citizens.

Washington.

It is vain to expect any advantage from our profession of the truth, if we be not sincerely just and honest in our actions.

Rev. Dr. Sharp.

Men must have righteous principles in the first place, and then they will not fail to perform virtuous actions. Luther

For the word of the Lord is right, and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment; the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. For he spake and it was done; he commanded and it stood fast. Psalms.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS UNION MEETING SUNDAY

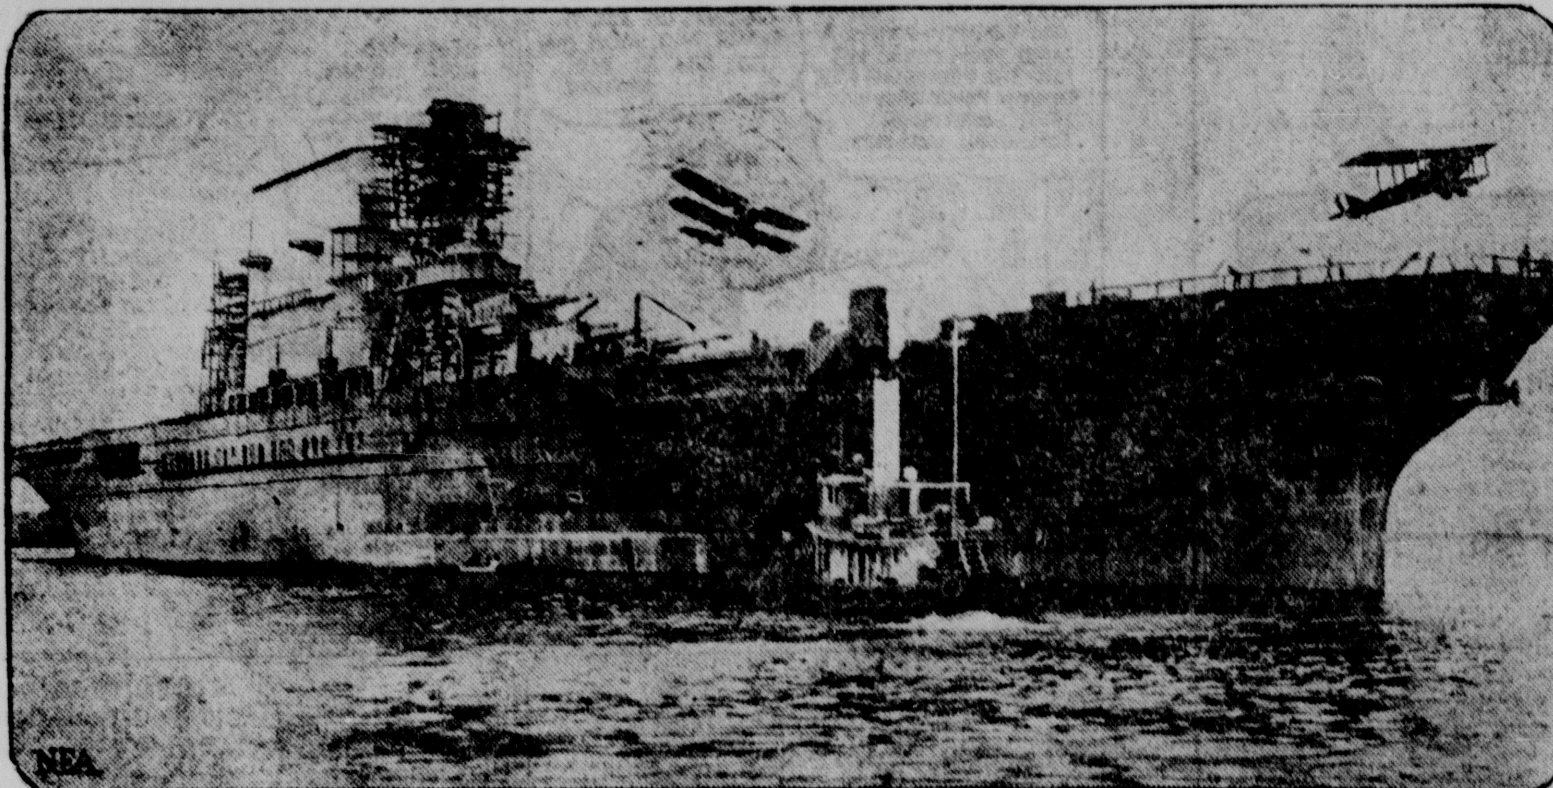

Miss Martha Stanley will report the International Christian Endeavor Convention held at Cleveland, to a union meeting of the five C. E. societies of Dixon, in the Christian church, Sunday evening, 6:30 o'clock. Miss Stanley was the delegate from the Lee County C. E. Union, and her description of this immense gathering of young people, will be a treat for the home members who could not go, but had the pleasure of knowing that they were well represented by one of their number.

The Convention registered over fifteen thousand delegates, and as the first one held since the death of the lamented founder, the Rev. Francis

E. Clark, it was a significant assurance of the strength and vitality of the movement to which Dr. Clark gave so much of his life.

Other young people of the city will be welcome at this meeting and all ex-Endeavorers, or "Endeavor alumni," as they prefer to be called, are especially urged to come. The Christian Church C. E. will direct the program of the meeting.

The Navy's Latest, Full of Planes—and Secrets

Here is the way the navy's new giant airplane carriers, the Saratoga and the Lexington, will look when in commission. Note how all the superstructure has been grouped along the starboard side, so that the huge deck will be clear for airplanes. Note, also, the unusual design of the bow.

It was a significant assurance of the strength and vitality of the movement to which Dr. Clark gave so much of his life. Other young people of the city will be welcome at this meeting and all ex-Endeavorers, or "Endeavor alumni," as they prefer to be called, are especially urged to come. The Christian Church C. E. will direct the program of the meeting.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Minister, Ben H. Cleaver

Yesterday's Church and Bible School picnic in Lowell Park was the largest in all the church's history.

and the lovely spot and the beautiful day made all approach the ideal. Next Sunday's services should reflect the joy of this outing, and the school has a good opportunity to rout further the summer-slump tendency. The school begins at 9:30, Jerome F. Cox, Supt.

The minister's sermon will be, "Loyalty or Prejudice?" The evening service will be merged with the union meeting of co-operating churches, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

In place of the usual C. E. service at 10:30, there will be a union meeting of the C. E. Societies of the city, in the Christian Church, to hear the Cleveland Convention reported by Miss Martha Stanley, the official delegate from Dixon.

A happy feature of the Bible School session will be the visit by the Young People's Class of the Mt. Morris Christian Church, led by their teacher, Lloyd M. Diehl.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Rev. A. R. Dickenbach of Oregon will preach at the morning service in the absence of the pastor.

Slow, Drizzly Rain is Welcomed Near Peoria

Peoria, Ill., July 14.—(AP)—A slow drizzly rain, apparently general over a wide area in central Illinois, is welcomed by corn growers as relief from droughty conditions that were becoming menacing.

John Gilbert of Film Fame Planning to Quit

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—The Times says John Gilbert, motion picture star, has announced that he may retire from film work for "five, ten, or fifteen years," or that he may form his own company and "have pictures to suit himself."

For Perfect Performance USE THEM BOTH

Ordinary gasoline gives ordinary service. Ordinary motor oil gives ordinary service. But why be satisfied with this, when Shell gives extraordinary service at no extra cost? Use 400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline and Golden Clear Shell Motor Oil — the perfectly balanced combination which reduces carbon, gives quicker pick-up, greater power and speed, and adds miles of life to any car.

Engine sluggishness is usually due to two causes. Certain gasolines do not burn completely because they do not vaporize completely — unburned particles seep past the piston rings and dilute the lubricating oil in the crankcase. Certain motor oils are deficient in lubricating properties — and because they contain excess carbon it is inevitable that they deposit excess carbon in the motor.

What your car needs, therefore, is a combination of specially refined, thorough-burning gasoline, and golden clear motor oil that is practically free from carbon.

400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline and Golden Clear Shell Motor Oil are made to go together — to work together in perfect harmony. Each supplements the virtues of the other to give a new joy to driving — a new freedom from engine knocks, loss of power, expense of overhauling and premature wear.

Drive to the nearest Shell yellow-red Service Station or authorized Shell Dealer — fill your tank with 400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline — have the crankcase drained and refilled with Golden Clear Shell Motor Oil — your car will show an immediate improvement in operation that will daily become more evident.

Golden Clear Shell Motor Oil

A fitting companion to Shell Gasoline. Its golden clear color indicates care in refining and freedom from excess carbon. It is obtained from specially selected crude oils that are rich in natural lubricating qualities, and is refined at a low temperature which preserves these qualities intact. Under all operating conditions, Shell Motor Oil provides an effective cushion of protection against friction and wear, and seals the cylinders so that the full force of compression is converted into speed and power.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PROBATE OF WILL

To George H. Whitmore, David Osborn Griffith, Garnet Moody Griffith, Mary Jane Griffith, William E. Osborn, Ida Mary Clark, Ruby Williams, James Harshbarger, Imogene Harshbarger, Ethel Harshbarger, Alma Harshbarger, Delma Harshbarger, Argie Harshbarger, Josie Lamps, Effie Lamps, Mabel Hailman, Julia Hailman, Jean Hailman, Nellie May Griffith, Mary Jane Griffith, Edna Griffith, Gay Griffith, Ruby Belle Griffith, Irene M. Osborn, Pauline C. Osborn, Clara Bell Osborn, Susan Price, Hazel Edmonds, Walter Edmunds, Ethel Austin, Ella Patton and E. N. Newcomb, Trustees, and the unknown heirs at law and legatees of Eliza A. Whitmore, deceased, late of Lee County, Illinois:

You are hereby notified that application has been made to the County Court of said County for the probate of the will of Eliza A. Whitmore, deceased, and that the hearing of the proof of said will has been set by said court for the first day of August, A. D. 1927, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House in Dixon in said county, when and where you can appear, if you see fit, and show cause if any you have why said will should not be admitted to probate.

George C. Dixon and John P. Devine, Attorneys.
FRED G. DIMICK, County Clerk. July 8th, 1927. July 8, 15, 22

For half an hour the court was once more deserted. The prisoners had been given no food during the day; now one of the hideously painted priests brought them wine in two clay ceremonial vessels, held the bowls to their lips so they could drink, then put the vessels at their sides in depressions cut especially for the purpose in the stone.

The court was filled anew with a swarming, buzzing multitude. Elise was brought out again and placed in the pavilion. Batalagos took a seat beside her. D'Albentara stood at the altar. A dance was begun.

Thirty or forty black, brown, and reddish-skinned women, their bodies bright with paint and feathers and their limbs jingling with metal ornaments, leaped, bowed, quivered, gyrated, while rows of men, with faces painted like death masks, stamped their feet and beat time with thudding tom-toms.

At a command from Batalagos the dance ceased. A fowl, a wild pig and two oxen were laid upon the altar-like stone, killed with a knife, and their hearts thrown into the crackling fire. More dancing.

A file of native soldiers came forward, each holding aloft a spear. On each spear-tip was a dried, shriveled human head. The soldiers fixed their burdens like standards in two rows on each side of the open-mouthed idol. Nunnally noticed that each grim trophy bore the same tattooed triangles which had marred Prentiss' forehead, while a tattooed line circled each shrunken neck just above the point where it had been severed.

Now a native with a particularly ferocious face was flung down near Vilak and made fast to another one of the seven stones, where he lay alternately screaming with terror and pleading piteously with his captors. A second young deer was slain to consult the omens; they decreed immediate sacrifice. Three of the soldiers danced a short pantomime in which there was much clashing of spears and stalking through imaginary bushes.

"This poor devil near us is a murderer," Vilak whispered to the old man. "I got that from what he said when he was begging for mercy. This pantomime is a favorite custom of savages. They're showing how he committed the murder. Stabbed his friend in the back while they were out hunting."

While in this helpless condition, his bonds were untied. The priests became four fiends. For half an hour they tortured him. Then another heart, like those of the beasts, went to the fire; another head and another spear joined the rows at the foot of the idol.

Four natives carrying hollowed reeds and gourds of different sizes began a shrill whistling and noisy rattling intended to be music. They ceased their discordant labors. D'Albentara approached Vilak. "All goes well, amigos!" he murmured. Vilak did not answer.

Jungle Breath

© 1927 by NEA Service

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Attempts have been made on the life of ELISE HARKER, an American girl owning considerable property near the little town of PORTO VERDE, in west central Brazil. She has escaped harm due to the shrewdness of her cousin and protector, VILAK, who with his friend, LINCOLN NUNALLY, an elderly American chemist, is trying to win reason for the strange enmity for Elise.

Living near Porto Verde is one GAYLORD PRENTISS, a strange and forbidding character, who has evinced a hatred for Elise.

ELISE, Elise's two-year-old orphaned nephew, is kidnapped. A native reports Prentiss has been seen with the baby. The trail leads into the jungle.

Calamity overtakes the expedition. Elise organizes in pursuit. Native trackers are injured or desert. Treachery breaks out. Their white friends are few victims and are left with a friendly tribe.

Elise, Vilak and Nunnally finally emerge from the jungle. Presently they come to the outskirts of a strange city, resembling old Indian civilization. Here they are made prisoners. They discover they are in the power of CARLOS D'ALBENTARA, whom they had known as an engineer back in Porto Verde.

The black ruler of the city decides to marry Elise and to put Vilak and Nunnally to death. They are to be tortured at the feast of HAYMEL. From his prison window Vilak can observe the beginning of the ceremonies incidental to the feast and sacrifice. He and Nunnally are brought to the temple.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY
CHAPTER XLIII
"GOT that ceremony from the Incas, too, probably," Vilak muttered as he turned his head to look at the old man lying on the stone two feet away. "Often a custom of fire-worshippers. Chief, headman, or king, whatever he happens to be, goes off to receive the first rays of the sun alone. You'd better try to sleep a little. Good as a drug in times like this."

These were the last words he spoke for hours.

Just before sunset this pavilion was the center of another procession. Elise, garbed in a robe of brilliantly woven wool, was borne into it on a litter and set upon a stone chair. Before her came the fat half-breed women with the painted aprons and ringed ears who had been her escorts a few days before, then a long line of native women of all varieties of dress, stature and racial mixture. Each deposited a flower or fruit at her feet. At sundown Batalagos appeared. Giggling, he threw a great veil or mantle of beautiful, ancient design over Elise and she was lifted onto the litter again and carried away.

For half an hour the court was once more deserted. The prisoners had been given no food during the day; now one of the hideously painted priests brought them wine in two clay ceremonial vessels, held the bowls to their lips so they could drink, then put the vessels at their sides in depressions cut especially for the purpose in the stone.

AMERICA'S FIRST SKY DREADNAUGHT

Foreflyer, perhaps, of a great aerial fleet of similar winged death-dealers is "The Condor," Uncle Sam's first dreadnaught of the skies, here photographed upon its initial test flight by Army pilots at Mitchel Field, Long Island. Armored with six machine guns (arrows) and designed to carry two tons of high explosive bombs and a crew of five, it is by far the most formidable war airplane yet constructed. It weighs 16,350 pounds fully loaded and is powered by two 600-horse-power motors which give it an 800-mile cruising radius at 100 miles an hour. A graphic idea of its 90-foot wingspread and of its 47-foot length is afforded by these two views while below—

Close-ups of the effectively mounted machine guns of "The Condor," the Army's aerial battleship. At the left you see the twin rifles in the nose of the ship, elevated to demonstrate their comprehensive range. They can be fired at as great an angle downward or to right or left. In the rear of each outboard motor housing are turrets bristling with similar twin guns, as shown at the right. All six of them fire several hundred shots a minute. Thus above and below, the path and wake of the flying man-o-war is adequately protected against faster hostile planes which might attack it as it drones over enemy terrain sowing death with its two-ton cargo of bombs.

Chicago Proposes 300-Mile Beacon

A tower 1320 feet high, topped by a light that could be seen by aviators for 300 miles, is the project being studied by Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago. A beacon of 1,200,000,000 candlepower is included in the plans which were suggested to Mayor Thompson by Samuel Insull, Jr., son of the utilities magnate. Besides helping to make the city an aviation center, the light would be a spectacle for visitors to the world's fair in 1933, its backers say.
